JOHN DHALI

John Dhali is an Indie Soul artist with a powerful presence, a rare depth of understanding and a song-writing maturity ahead of his years.

"Music is the expression of my true Self. I believe it can have the power to remind people of who they really are. This is my intention – I write about 'Self Realization' and want to bring this idea into popular culture through music. I want to make people happy."

Musical Influences come in all shapes and sizes, including John Lennon, Bob Marley, Jeff Buckley, Nina Simone, The Waterboys, Edward Sharpe and the Magnetic Zeros, Radiohead, Nick Drake, John Martyn and Jimi Hendrix. The real fuel behind Dhali's songs however, is found in his own personal story of transformation and his love of Hindu philosophy.

Hearing his music for the first time has been likened to 'welcoming an old friend', instantly familiar melodies, profound lyricism and a soaring vocal combine to form a magical musical medicine for the soul.
